Phyllis,

This letter is long over due. I want to thank you and the divorce recovery group for all the help and support. Getting divorced was such a difficult experience for me. My friends couldn't understand me and my family was suffering with me. The group gave me a place to come to be with people who understood me. I really liked how everyone was in a different stage of divorce so some could give advice and some could just relate. I was so happy to have somewhere to go to talk about my troubles or listen to what others were going through. I really looked forward to Friday night. I was so lucky to have met my best friend at group and since being divorced a year I consider my friends from group the best I have.

I am a different religion than the church, but that made no difference. There was no religious aspect to the group - just divorce as our common thread.

I hope this letter finds you well and please accept all my gratitude. I'm sure I'll be back to visit.
