To Whom It May Concern:

The Divorce Recovery Program at Princeton Church of Christ could very well be the reason I'm here today.

After twenty-two years of marriage and two children I thought my life came to an end in April of 1997. I felt I could not talk to or tell anyone what happened. I began to drink constantly and thought often about suicide.

October 1997 I attended a seminar at Princeton Church of Christ, the following week I attended the support group. Through counseling and attending this support group for almost two years, I have been able to return to a life of some normalcy. They have provided a caring and safe haven to talk and let out your anger.

Sincerely,

Tina
