

COMMUNICATION – PEACEMAKERS – PART 3

Introduction – God calls for us to be peacemakers in every area of our lives. We should use our communication skills to facilitate reconciliation with others. This is our God-given mission.

- A. We must be intentional as peacemakers and have a specific process to resolve possible conflict between people.

Romans 14:19

Conflict Resolution Process

- B. Our reconciliation with God through Christ equips us to become effective peacemakers.

2 Corinthians 5:14-17

1. The basis of our reconciliation with God is the sacrificial death of Jesus on our behalf.
2. This must change our perspective on everything so we can be peacemakers.
3. We have become God's new creation in Christ.

- C. As Ambassadors of Christ we represent the interest of the kingdom of God.

2 Corinthians 5:18-20

1. We all have a ministry centered on the reconciliation of others to God and one another.
2. We have the message of reconciliation to share with an alienated and conflicted world.
3. We are acting on God's behalf when we work for reconciliation in this world.

Conclusion – Families are conflicted. Societies are in turmoil. Nations are antagonistic to each other. Only the love of Christ applied by ambassadors of Christ can overcome all this human strife. It must begin with me and us as the body of Christ.
